THE NATIONAL ANTHEM

(Audience will kindly rise and sing.)

O say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming-
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming!
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there;
O! say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave?

HONORARY DEGREE CITATIONS — May 18, 1985

David Joseph O'Brien

Jesuit-lay colleagueship is at the heart of the enterprise of Jesuit higher education in the United States today. On twenty-eight campuses, Jesuits, laymen and laywomen are sharing their vision, talents and commitment in a collaborative effort which is both a necessity and an opportunity.

David J. O'Brien, as a wise observer of and participant in American Catholic intellectual, social and ecclesiastical history, has been among the first to realize the significance of this collaboration and has been among the best in exemplifying it in his life and work.

A graduate of the University of Notre Dame, he received a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship to pursue his doctorate in American Social and Political History at the University of Rochester. His experience with Jesuit education began at Loyola College in Montreal where he taught for five years before moving to Holy Cross College in 1969. While at Holy Cross he has also taken time to pursue post-doctoral studies in theology at the Harvard Divinity School, to plan for the first national assembly of the American Catholic Church, (the Call to Action Conference of 1976), to develop an institute for justice and peace at Stonehill College and to participate in and lead numerous workshops at Notre Dame, Marquette, Boston College, Xavier University and other colleges and universities.

Dr. O'Brien has published three books and over ninety articles. His recent articles and seminars on Jesuit higher education have framed a substantial part of recent discussion and strategy on Jesuit campuses in the United States. His visit to Xavier in the Fall of 1982 helped provide the impetus for a redefinition of the University's identity and mission. He is nationally known for his perceptive and sensitive analyses of both the problems and promise of Jesuit, Catholic education today.

President Currie, because he has exemplified to an eminent degree the synthesis of dedicated teaching, scholarly research and commitment to service to which we are all challenged at Xavier University, and because of his distinctive contributions to Jesuit higher education at Xavier and elsewhere, it is my pleasure to present to you, David Joseph O'Brien, for the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa.

Jacob Rader Marcus

An educator has been described as "the visible embodiment of the realized humanity of our aspirations, intelligence, skill and scholarship." Professor Jacob Rader Marcus is that visible embodiment, if we add an all-important sense of humor!

Professor Marcus is the Distinguished Service Professor and occupant of the Milton and Hattie Kutz Chair in American Jewish History at the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion. He is also Director of the American Jewish Archives and of the American Jewish Periodical Center, both of which are housed on the Cincinnati campus of Hebrew Union College and which contain the most comprehensive data anywhere on American Jewry. The Archives, the pre-eminent research center in its field, contain over eight million pages of documentation on Jewish life in the Western Hemisphere, documentation assembled as a labor of love and scholarship by our honoree.

A graduate of the University of Cincinnati, and ordained to the rabbinate at Hebrew Union College, Professor Marcus served with distinction overseas in World War I before receiving his Ph.D. from the University of Berlin, and pursuing post-doctoral studies in Paris and Jerusalem. He is the author of numerous books and articles, and has been honored with a Jubilee volume in commemoration of the anniversary of the founding of the American Jewish Archives. He is the recipient of numerous awards and honors as a leading historian of American Jewish life and culture.

To know Jacob Marcus is to know a demanding and dedicated scholar, a beloved mentor to hundreds of students and younger scholars, and a warm, sensitive, witty human being who exemplifies the very best of the Jewish life and culture he chronicles.

President Currie, because he represents to an eminent degree the qualities of mind and heart which Xavier treasures, because he has been an integral part of our sister institution, Hebrew Union College, and because of his long colleagueship with the Xavier family, it is my honor to present to you, Jacob Rader Marcus, for the degree of Doctor of Humanities, honoris causa.

The names and honors of the graduates listed are for purposes of this program and do not represent a final certification of graduation. Xavier University is an academic community committed to equal opportunity for all persons regardless of age, sex, race, religion, handicap or national origin.
